CALL TO WORSHIP

Minister: Your steadfast love, O Lord, extends to the heavens.

People: Your righteousness is like the mighty mountains.

Minister: How precious is your steadfast love, O God!

People: We feast on the abundance of your house,

Minister: For with you is the fountain of life;

People: In your light we see light.

INVOCATION

CONFESSION

In unison:

Eternal God, in whom we live and move and have our being, whose face is hidden from us by our sin, and whose mercy we forget: Cleanse us from all offenses, and deliver us from proud thoughts and vain desires; that humbly we may draw near to thee, confessing our faults, confiding in thy grace, and finding in thee our refuge and our strength, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

ASSURANCE OF PARDON

THE LORD'S PRAYER

In unison:

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy Kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

O save me for thy mercy’s sake.

MUSIC NOTES

Orlando Gibbons was born into a musical family: his father was a civic musician who migrated between Oxford and Cambridge, and his brother, Edward, was a Lay Clerk in the choir of King’s College, Cambridge, where the young Orlando would receive his early musical education as a chorister. He is first listed on the payroll of the Chapel Royal in 1603, and two years later he would become the senior chapel organist — a post he would hold for the rest of his life. He became one of the king’s private virginalists in 1619, and in 1623 he was appointed organist of Westminster Abbey. When he died suddenly of apoplexy in 1625, England lost its most gifted organist and composer — a musician renowned both for his keyboard dexterity and his ability to write with equal facility for both sacred and secular forces. “O Lord, in Thy Wrath” is an expressive example of the full anthem genre; a setting of words from Psalm 6, it is full of wrenching dissonances and pleading harmonies.

Richard Farrant was a prolific composer of musical works for the church and the theater who held posts in a number of important English musical establishments, including the Chapel Royal and St. George’s Chapel, Windsor. Unfortunately very little of his music has survived, but that which does attests to his skill as a composer. “Call to Remembrance” is a setting of verses from Psalm 25: its straightforward and direct compositional approach, which facilitates comprehension of the text, was one favored during the Tudor period.

Today’s offertory is sung by Tactus, directed by Harvard University Choir member Tanmoy Laskar G5. Thomas Tallis’s seven-voice setting of the text “Miserere nostri, Domine”, from Cantiones Sacrae (1575), comprises two simultaneous canons in various musical permutations (augmentation, inversion, etc.); such mathematical wizardry, however, is concealed by the harmonic and motivic beauty of this short work.

Today’s organ music comes from Bach’s monumental keyboard study (or Clavierübung), the third part of which is devoted to organ music. Each setting utilizes a plainsong melody adapted from an early Lutheran hymnbook; the elegiac Kyrie presents the theme in the treble voice, while the elegant Christe utilizes the sonorous tenor register. The postlude, Kyrie, Gott heiliger Geist, is written in a deliberately archaic style — one that Bach often refers to in his large-scale liturgical settings — in which the melody is heard in long notes in the pedals.
