INVOCATION
CONFESSION

In unison:

Eternal God, in whom we live and move and have our being, whose face is hidden from us by our sin, and whose mercy we forget: cleanse us from all offenses, and deliver us from proud thoughts and vain desires; that humbly we may draw near to thee, confessing our faults, confiding in thy grace, and finding in thee our refuge and our strength, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

GREETING

THE PEACE

All are invited to join in singing.

We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing. He chastens and has-tens his will to make known; the wick-ed-op-press-ing now cease from distress-ing. Sing prais-es to his name; he for-gets not his own.
OFFERTORY
Psalm 81:1–11  Exultate Deo  chant by John Davy (1763–1824)
Sung by the choir

Sing we merrily unto God our strength;
make a cheerful noise unto the God of Jacob.
Take the psalm, bring hither the tabret,
the merry harp with the lute.
Blow up the trumpet in the new-moon,
even in the time appointed, and upon our solemn feast-day.
For this was made a statute for Israel,
and a law of the God of Jacob.
This he ordained in Joseph for a testimony,
when he came out of the land of Egypt, and had heard a strange language.
I eased his shoulder from the burden,
and his hands were delivered from making the pots.
Thou calledst upon me in troubles, and I delievered thee;
and heard thee what time as the storm fell upon thee.
I proved thee also
at the waters of strife.
Hear, O my people, and I will assure thee, O Israel,
if thou wilt hearken unto me,
There shall no strange god be in thee,
neither shalt thou worship any other god.
I am the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt;
open thy mouth wide and I shall fill it.

Here an offering is received for the work of the Church within and beyond the University.
Ushers will begin the collection from the back of the hall forward.

DOXOLOGY
Sung by the congregation, standing
Praise God, from whom all blessings flow;
Praise God, all creatures here below;
Praise God above, ye heavenly host,
FIRST LESSON

Proverbs 25:6–7a

Do not put yourself forward in the king’s presence
Or stand in the place of the great;
For it is better to be told, “Come up here,”
Than to be put lower in the presence of a noble.

ANTHEM

I Was Glad When They Said Unto Me (1685)
Henry Purcell (1659–1695)

I was glad when they said unto me: we will go into the house of the Lord.
For thither the tribes go up, e’en the tribes of the Lord:
To testify unto Israel, and to give thanks unto the name of the Lord.
For there is the seat of judgment: e’en the seat of the house of David.
O pray for the peace of Jerusalem: they shall prosper that love thee.
Peace be within thy walls: and plenteousness within thy palaces.
Glory be to the Father, and to the Son: and to the Holy Ghost;
As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be: world without end. Amen.

Psalm 122:1, 4–7 (The Great Bible)

SECOND LESSON

Luke 14:1, 7–14

On one occasion when Jesus was going to the house of a leader of the Pharisees to eat a meal on the sabbath, they were watching him closely.

When he noticed how the guests chose the places of honor, he told them a parable.

“When you are invited by someone to a wedding banquet, do not sit down at the place of honor, in case someone more distinguished than you has been invited by your host; and the host who invited both of you may come and say to you, ‘Give this person your place,’ and then in disgrace you would start to take the lowest place. But when you are invited, go and sit down at the lowest place, so that when your host comes, he may say to you, ‘Friend, move up higher’; then you will be honored in the presence of all who sit at the table with you. For all who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted.”

He said also to the one who had invited him, “When you give a luncheon or a dinner, do not invite your friends or your brothers or your relatives or rich neighbors, in case they may invite you in return, and you would be repaid. But when you give a banquet, invite the poor, the crippled, the lame, and the blind. And you will be blessed, because they cannot repay you, for you will be repaid at the resurrection of the righteous.”
HYMN

The congregation standing

Day by day, dear Lord, of thee three things I pray: to see thee more clearly, love thee more dearly, follow thee more nearly, day by day.

THE PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE

THE LORD’S PRAYER

In unison:

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, on earth, as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

ANTHEM

O God, Thou Art My God, Z. 35 (ca. 1681–82) Henry Purcell

O God, thou art my God: early will I seek thee.
My soul thirsteth for thee, my flesh also longeth after thee:
In a barren and dry land where no water is.
Thus have I looked for thee in holiness: that I might behold thy power and glory.
For thy loving-kindness is better than life itself: my lips shall praise thee.
As long as I live will I magnify thee on this manner: and lift up my hands in thy name.
Because thou hast been my helper:
Therefore under the shadow of thy wings will I rejoice. Hallelujah.

MUSIC NOTES

Today’s service presents the first opportunity to hear the Choral Fellows of 2016–2017, and I would like to extend a warm welcome to the new members of the group.

Considered one of the greatest of all English composers, Henry Purcell was born just a few months before the end of Cromwell’s puritan rule and the restoration of the monarchy, which ushered in a golden age for the arts in England. As a boy he was a chorister in the Chapel Royal; in 1679 he became organist of Westminster Abbey, and of the Chapel Royal in 1682. Church music occupied a position of great importance during the reign of Charles II, and most of Purcell’s sacred music was written before the king died in 1685. This morning’s anthems demonstrate Purcell’s consummate mastery of the art of text setting, a skill for which he is justly famed.

The recently discovered “I Was Glad” (the manuscript was unearthed in 1975) was sung at the coronation of James II in 1685, and is an example of the full anthem genre: sectional, and contrasted, it is an extroverted display of Purcell’s compositional prowess, combining both single and double augmentation at its conclusion.

“O God, Thou Art My God” dates from the early 1680s and contains many beautiful examples of word painting: “and lift up my hands” is set to a rising scale; “for thy loving-kindness” is given to a trio of high voices. The music forming the closing “Hallelujah” section became so popular that it was subsequently adapted as the hymn tune, Westminster Abbey.

Very little organ music of Purcell is extant, presumably due to the improvisatory nature of his performances; the Voluntary in G major is Italian in influence—a solo section leads into a sprightly canzona. The prelude is several movements from Francis Jackson’s Georgian Suite, which is composed of pieces based on music of the English Baroque.
