PRELUDE

Nun komm, der Heiden Heiland, BWV 659

Johann Sebastian Bach (1685–1750)

HYMN

No. 91, “O Come, O Come, Emmanuel”

Veni Emmanuel

The congregation standing

During the singing of this hymn, the first Advent candle, representing hope, is lit.

INVOCATION

One: This is the day we begin our journey to the Christ Child, his mother, and the manger.

Many: May we kindle God’s light together as we journey on.

One: We journey because we are drawn to God’s light; it is God’s promise, borne into our lives.

Many: God of darkness and light, God of hope and fear, help us take one step closer to you. In this candlelight, show us that the power of hope can silence doubts and fears.

One: Take this light, small but mighty, and magnify it within us until our hope chases away all shadows of hatred and fear.

Many: May we kindle God’s light together as we journey on. Amen.

CONFESSION

In unison:

Eternal God, in whom we live and move and have our being, whose face is hidden from us by our sin, and whose mercy we forget: cleanse us from all offenses, and deliver us from proud thoughts and vain desires; that humbly we may draw near to thee, confessing our faults, confiding in thy grace, and finding in thee our refuge and our strength, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

ASSURANCE OF PARDON

HYMN

No. 99, “Hark, a Thrilling Voice Is Sounding”

Psalm 25:1-9

Ad te, Domine, levavi

Tone I.7

Unto thee, O Lord, will I lift up my soul; my God, I have put my trust in thee:

O let me not be confounded, neither let mine enemies triumph over me.

For all they that hope in thee shall not be ashamed;

but such as transgress without a cause shall be put to confusion.

Show me thy ways, O Lord,

and teach me thy paths.

Lead me forth in thy truth, and learn me:

for thou art the God of my salvation; in thee hath been my hope all the day long.

Call to remembrance, O Lord, thy tender mercies, and thy loving-kindnesses, which have been ever of old.

O remember not the sins and offences of my youth;

but according to thy mercy think thou upon me, O Lord, for thy goodness.

Gracious and righteous is the Lord;

therefore, will he teach sinners in the way.

Them that are meek shall he guide in judgment;

and such as are gentle, them shall he learn his way.

All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth, unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies.

It is right, and a good and joyful thing, always and everywhere to give thanks to you, all holy God, creator of heaven and earth. Because you sent your beloved Son to redeem us from sin and death, and to make us heirs in him of everlasting life; that when he shall come again in power and great triumph to judge the world, we may without shame or fear rejoice to behold his appearing. Therefore we praise you, joining our voices with angels and archangels and with all the company of heaven, who for ever sing this hymn to proclaim the glory of your name:

MUSIC NOTES

Giovanni Pierluigi da Palestrina is one of the towering figures of Renaissance music. Born in the central Italian town of Palestrina, he trained as a chorister in Rome's S. Maria Maggiore and was subsequently appointed Magister Cappellae of the Cappella Giulia, the choir of St. Peter's Basilica. His first book of madrigals was published in 1555, and it was followed by a steady stream of publications: at the time of Palestrina's death there were seven volumes of masses, and six of motets. This morning the choir presents the Kyrie and Agnus Dei from the Missa "Aeterna Christi Munera," a mass based on fragments of the plainsong Matins hymn of the same name.

Colin Mawby was a chorister at Westminster Cathedral, where he would later become Master of the Music: his setting of Ave verum corpus is for eight-part choir and utilizes a luscious harmonic language.

To welcome in the new liturgical year, today's organ music comprises two settings of Advent hymns. The prelude is "Nun komm, der Heiden Heiland" ("Savior of the Nations, Come") from Bach's collection of large-scale chorale preludes known as the Great Eighteen, which is plaintive in mood with florid elaborations of the melody in the treble. The postlude is based on the Gregorian Advent hymn "Iesu, redemptor omnium." It represents the angst and unrest experienced by the world awaiting the arrival of its savior.
