Psalm 99  Dominus regnavit  Anglican Chant by Thomas Attwood (1765–1838)

In thee, O Lord, have I put my trust; let me never be put to confusion, but rid me and deliver me in thy righteousness; incline thine ear unto me, and save me.
Be thou my stronghold, whereunto I may alway resort:
thou hast promised to help me, for thou art my house of defense, and my castle.
Deliver me, O my God, out of the hand of the ungodly, out of the hand of the unrighteous and cruel man.
For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for:
thou art my hope, even from my youth.
Through thee have I been holden up ever since I was born:
thou art he that took me out of my mother’s womb: my praise shall be alway of thee.

MUSIC NOTES
Harold Darke studied at the Royal College of music under Stanford and served in the Royal Air Force. He held the post of organist and choirmaster of St. Michael’s, Cornhill (City of London) continuously from 1916 to 1969 with the exception of the years 1941 to 1945 when he stood in at King’s College, Cambridge, for Boris Ord, who was enlisted to serve in the second world war. The Communion Service in E was written for the choir of King’s College and is a simple, elegant, and very singable setting of the Mass ordinary.

One of Mozart’s final compositions, the sublime “Ave, verum corpus” was written in June 1791 for a choir in the spa town of Baden, where the composer’s wife was recuperating at the time.

Felix Mendelssohn’s works for organ set a new, forward-looking standard for organ composition in the nineteenth century, while simultaneously harking back to the traditions and spirit of the German Baroque—and specifically to the music of Johann Sebastian Bach. This morning’s prelude features a lilting opening movement followed by a more angular, chromatic fugue. Rejoice was written by Noël Goemanne, a Belgian-American composer who made must of his career as organist and choirmaster of Christ the King Catholic Church in Dallas, TX. This piece was written to be performed at the Salt Lake Tabernacle by its organist of many years, Alexander Schreiner.
