The 110th Annual Christmas Carol Service

The Harvard University Choir
Welcome to America’s oldest carol service, presented by the Memorial Church at Harvard University. In 1910, the newly appointed University Organist and Choirmaster, Archibald T. Davison, and Plummer Professor of Christian Morals, Edward C. Moore, devised the first annual Christmas Carol Service for Harvard University. The liturgy they prepared has remained virtually unchanged since: three lessons from scripture, interspersed with choral and congregational carols, beginning with “Adeste, fideles” sung in Latin. Over a century later, this service continues to be a cherished part of the festive season for the Harvard and Cambridge communities. As a courtesy, we ask that you silence all electronic devices. Photography and the use of recording equipment are not permitted during the service.
On Christmas night all Christians sing
To hear the news the angels bring:
News of great joy, news of great mirth,
News of our merciful king’s birth.

The tradition of the Christmas carol began in medieval Europe and has since blossomed into a repertoire that is one of the great treasures of the Christian world. Each generation and culture deepens our understanding of the Christmas miracle through reinterpretation and replenishment: the renewed attentions of poets, artists, and musicians, ensures that this most beloved of narratives retains its vitality and relevance. Tonight, we contemplate the Christmas message from a variety of countries and eras, with festive offerings from England, Italy, Russia, Switzerland, the United States of America, and Wales.

Our service opens in one of Harvard’s most poignant spaces, the Memorial Room, which documents the names of those Harvard men who perished in World War One, and contains the powerful centerpiece Sacrifice by the American sculptor and author Malvina Hoffman. Towards the end of the service, the congregation is invited to participate in the singing of “Silent Night” in English or in German: this practice memorializes that most moving episode of over one hundred years ago when, on Christmas Day 1914, soldiers from both sides of the trenches laid down their arms and climbed into no-man’s land to sing this cherished carol.

In addition, the service features the world premieres of two American carols by Harvard College graduates. Michael Schachter ’09, who is at the beginning of his tenure in the Harvard Society of Fellows, sets one of two anonymous fifteenth-century macaronic English carols heard this evening (the other is by Carl Rütti); and composer in residence Carson Cooman ’04 takes the Memorial Church’s year-long exploration of Pilgrimage as his starting point, setting a new text by Welsh-Scottish poet Euan Tait.

Tonight’s prelude features organ music, performed by Assistant University Organist and Choirmaster David von Behren, based on eight different carol melodies from around the world, ranging from the French baroque settings of Daquin to new American works by Carson Cooman, David Conte, and George Emlen (who celebrates his 75th birthday this year). The postlude is an ebullient setting of “Antioch,” the famous hymn tune by Lowell Mason, whose music was first published and promoted by Boston’s Handel and Haydn Society.

All out of darkness we have light,
Which made the angels sing this night:
“Glory to God and peace to men,
Now and forevermore. Amen.”

Kind Mother of the Redeemer, the open gateway to heaven and star of the sea, help your fallen people who strive to rise again: we pray you, who bore your holy Son by a miracle of nature, a virgin first and last, who received God's greeting from the mouth of Gabriel, have mercy on sinners.

Sans Day Carol (arr. 1969)

Arranged by John Rutter (b. 1945)

Now the holly bears a berry as white as the milk,
And Mary bore Jesus, all wrapped up in silk,
And Mary bore Jesus Christ our savior for to be,
And the first tree in the greenwood, it was the holly.

Holly! Holly!
And the first tree in the greenwood, it was the holly!

Now the holly bears a berry as green as the grass,
And Mary bore Jesus, who died on the cross,
And Mary bore Jesus Christ our savior for to be,
And the first tree in the greenwood, it was the holly.

Refrain

Now the holly bears a berry as black as the coal,
And Mary bore Jesus, who died for us all,
And Mary bore Jesus Christ our savior for to be,
And the first tree in the greenwood, it was the holly.

Refrain

Now the holly bears a berry as blood is it red,
And Mary bore Jesus who rose from the dead,
And Mary bore Jesus Christ our savior for to be,
And the first tree in the greenwood, it was the holly.

Torches, Op. 7a (1951)

Torches, torches, run with torches
All the way to Bethlehem!
Christ is born and now lies sleeping;
Come and sing your song to him.

Ah, Roro, Roro, my baby,
Ah, Roro, my love, Roro;
Sleep you well, my heart’s own darling,
While we sing you our Roro.

Sing, my friends, and make you merry,
Joy and mirth and joy again;
Lo, he lives, the king of heaven,
Now and evermore. Amen.

John Joubert (1927–2019)

Traditional Galician
English translation by John Brande Trend (1887–1958)
1 Angels we have heard on high, singing sweetly through the night,
2 Shepherds, why this jubilee? Why these songs of happy cheer?
3 Come to Bethlehem and see him whose birth the angels sing,
4 See him in a manger laid whom the angels praise above;

and the mountains in reply echoing their brave delight.
What great brightness did you see? What glad tidings did you hear?
come, adore on bended knee Christ, the Lord, the newly born King.
Mary, Joseph, lend your aid, while we raise our hearts in love.

CAROL

Sussex Carol (arr. 1978)

On Christmas night all Christians sing
To hear the news the angels bring:
News of great joy, news of great mirth,
News of our merciful king's birth.

Then why should men on earth be so sad,
Since our redeemer made us glad,
When from our sin he set us free,
All for to gain our liberty?

When sin departs before his grace,
Then life and health come in its place;
Angels and men with joy may sing,
All for to see the newborn king.

All out of darkness we have light,
Which made the angels sing this night:
"Glory to God and peace to men,
Now and forevermore. Amen."

My Lord Has Come (2010)

Shepherds, called by angels,
Called by love and angels:
No place for them but a stable.
My Lord has come.

Sages, searching for stars,
Searching for love in heaven;
No place for them but a stable.
My Lord has come.

His love will hold me,
His love will cherish me,
Love will cradle me.
Lead me, lead me to see him,
Sages and shepherds and angels;
No place for me but a stable.
My Lord has come.

CAROL
Composed for the 110th Annual Christmas Carol Service, December 2019

Loved pilgrim lion,
You bring me on Your back home, the eternal place of Your birth,
Your sweet child play,
Your laughter and light beauty,
quiet, gentle Joseph and Mary radiant
with Holy Spirit songs that made her praying dance. Oh how the world leapt in her womb!
Here, loved lion Jesus, I am again, pilgrim
of the year past, among the kingdom of Your birth.
I brush the shoulders of kings, shepherds.
I am here, and I adore the forever Amen.

Jesus Christ the Apple Tree (1986)

The tree of life my soul hath seen,
Laden with fruit and always green:
The trees of nature fruitless be
Compared with Christ the apple tree.

His beauty doth all things excel:
By faith I know, but ne’er can tell
The glory which I now can see
In Jesus Christ the apple tree.

For happiness I long have sought,
And pleasure dearly I have bought:
I missed of all; but now I see
’Tis found in Christ the apple tree.

I’m weary with my former toil,
Here I will sit and rest awhile:
Under the shadow I will be,
Of Jesus Christ the apple tree.

This fruit doth make my soul to thrive,
It keeps my dying faith alive;
Which makes my soul in haste to be
With Jesus Christ the apple tree.

True Light (2002)

This little light of mine I’m gonna let it shine.

Almighty God is light.
He lives in us as True Light.

In the beginning out of the darkness God created True Light.
He lives in us as True Light.
Almighty God is light. He lives in us as True Light.

Don’t let the light that You’ve given me die,
And don’t desert my mind.
But let the one who serves You Praise You again and again.
He lives in us as True Light.

You are the one who judges right from wrong.
Your glory excites no envy.
But let the one who serves You Praise You again and again.
He lives in us as True Light.

This little light of mine I’m gonna let it shine.
Everywhere I go, I want the world to know.
God gave the world True Light!
Hold on to the true light.
