Eternal God, in whom we live and move and have our being, whose face is hidden from us by our sin, and whose mercy we forget: cleanse us from all offenses, and deliver us from proud thoughts and vain desires; that humbly we may draw near to thee, confessing our faults, confiding in thy grace, and finding in thee our refuge and our strength, through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Psalm 37:3–11, 40–41

Noli æmulari

Chant by John Joubert (1927–2019)

Put thou thy trust in the Lord, and be doing good;
    dwell in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.
Delight thou in the Lord,
    and he shall give thee thy heart's desire.
Commit thy way unto the Lord, and put thy trust in him,
    and he shall bring it to pass.
He shall make thy righteousness as clear as the light,
    and thy just dealing as the noon-day.
Hold thee still in the Lord, and abide patiently upon him:
    but grieve not thyself at him whose way doth prosper,
    against the man that doeth after evil counsels.
Leave off from wrath, and let go displeasure:
    fret not thyself, else shalt thou be moved to do evil.
Wicked doers shall be rooted out;
    and they that patiently abide the Lord, those shall inherit the land.
Yet a little while, and the ungodly shall be clean gone:
    thou shalt look after his place, and he shall be away.
But the meek-spirited shall possess the earth,
    and shall be refreshed in the multitude of peace.
But the salvation of the righteous cometh of the Lord;
    who is also their strength in the time of trouble.
And the Lord shall stand by them, and save them:
    he shall deliver them from the ungodly, and shall save them,
    because they put their trust in him.

MUSIC NOTES

Jonathan Dove is an English composer whose music spans the worlds of opera, theater, film, and the church. His anthem Seek Him That Maketh the Seven Stars was commissioned by the Royal Academy of Arts for its annual Service for Artists and sets words from the Book of Amos and Psalm 139. The work opens with a sparkling organ motif, representing the twinkling stars of the night sky, which leads into the refrain “seek him.” This yearning motif is eventually released into a joyful dance, which itself is transformed to become the work’s serene conclusion.

One of the most prolific composers of choral music today, John Rutter was educated at Clare College, Cambridge, where he later became Director of Music. In 1981 he formed the Cambridge Singers, with whom he has recorded widely on his own label, Collegium Records. Most widely known for his Christmas carols and arrangements, Rutter edited the hugely successful Carols for Choirs anthologies with Sir David Willcocks and has been called “the world’s greatest living composer and conductor of choral music.” The Lord Bless You and Keep You was written in 1981 in memory of Edward Chapman, sometime Director of Music at Highgate School, London, where Rutter had been a pupil.

Philip Moore was Organist and Master of the Music in York Minster from 1983 to 2008. Soliloquy is dedicated to Moore’s predecessor at York, Francis Jackson: the musical material derives from a sequence of notes which translates Jackson’s surname into pitches. Barry Ferguson was the organist at Rochester Cathedral in England for some time before making his reputation as a freelance composer and recitalist. His Toccata on “Praise, My Soul, the King of Heaven” is an unusually dissonant take on today’s opening hymn.
