Monday

Thou Knowest Lord the Secrets of Our Hearts Henry Purcell

Thou knowest, Lord, the secrets of our hearts;
shut not thy merciful ears unto our prayer.
But spare us, Lord most holy, O God most mighty,
O holy and most merciful Savior, thou most worthy judge eternal.
Suffer us not at our last hour, for any pains of death to fall from thee. Amen.

Book of Common Prayer, 1662

Tuesday

O Thou Sweetest Source of Gladness Louis Bourgeois, arr. Philip Ledger

O thou sweetest source of gladness,
Light’s all lovely fountainhead,
Who alike in joy and sadness
Leavest none unvisited:
Breath of Godhead, highest king,
Who, upholding everything,
Wilt uphold with love undying,
Hear, O hear me humbly crying.

Paul Gerhardt (1607–1676)
Translated by George Ratcliffe Woodward (1848–1934)

Wednesday

Kyrie from Messe de Notre Dame Guillaume de Machaut

Kyrie eleison. Lord, have mercy.
Christe eleison. Christ, have mercy.
Kyrie eleison. Lord, have mercy.

Thursday

Periti autem fulgebunt, Op. 115, No. 2 Felix Mendelssohn

Periti autem fulgebunt ut fulgor æthereus. Quique multos reddiderunt iustos erunt stellarum similes, in omnem æternitatem.

They that be wise shall shine as the brightness of the firmament; and they that turn many to righteousness shine as the stars for ever and ever.

Daniel 12:3

Friday

By the Same Spirit Christian Asplund

For behold, to one is given the spirit of God, that he might teach the word of wisdom; and to another that he may teach the word of knowledge by the same spirit. And to another, exceedingly great faith; to another, the gifts of healing; to another, that he might work mighty miracles; to another, that he may prophesy concerning all things; and to another, the beholding of angels and ministering spirits; and again, to another, all kinds of tongues; and again, to another, the interpretation of languages and diverse kinds of tongues.

Book of Mormon (Moroni 10:9–16)
