

TILLICH, BONHOEFFER, AND THE FUTURE OF JESUS CHRIST

James Carroll

Award winning novelist and columnist for The Boston Globe

James Carroll is author of ten novels and seven works of non-fiction, including the New York Times bestselling Constantine's Sword, now an acclaimed documentary and Jerusalem, Jerusalem: How the Ancient City Ignited Our Modern World, which was named a 2011 Best Book by Publishers Weekly. His Boston Globe columns were honored with the 2012 Scripps Howard Award for Best Commentary. In 2014, Houghton Mifflin Harcourt will publish his eleventh novel, Warburg in Rome, and Viking will publish Christ Actually: The Son of God for The Secular Age, his eighth work of non-fiction.

Wednesday, April 30, 7:30 P.M.

The Memorial Church at Harvard University

The lecture is free and open to the public.

www.memorialchurch.harvard.edu

HARVARD

The Memorial Church